OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE

During SIT-35 the 2020-2021 SIT Chair Team focused on the original vision for SIT, aiming to foster Principal-level discussion and decision making to bring resources to address the significant coordination challenges presented by the harmonisation of observing systems across space agencies. This is bookended by the SIT Technical Workshop, which focuses on more detailed working-level task coordination and preparation for CEOS Plenary.

Accordingly, a series of sessions have been planned, with key objectives including:

- Supporting progress of the CEOS Chair priorities for 2020 [SIT-35 update];
- Showcasing the work of the Working Teams and identifying related Plenary issues;
- Supporting new initiatives and activities arising from the Working Teams (e.g., CEOS-COAST);
- Supporting those activities related to CEOS relationships (e.g., GEO and its activities, GCOS, UNFCCC);
- Sharing and understanding progress against the CEOS Work Plan 2020-2022;
- Progression of the three priority areas outlined in the CSIRO/GA SIT Chair 2020-2021 Prospectus: Analysis Ready Data (ARD), Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), and Carbon and Biomass; and,
- Providing overall assurance that issues are ready to be discussed at CEOS Plenary 2020.

In addition, and in light of recent CEOS Agency announcements and the deployment of the COVID-19 Earth Observing Dashboard, a special session on COVID-19 and Space will be included. While this topic does not map to an existing CEOS activity or Plenary outcome, a brief discussion session is scheduled to establish if further CEOS coordination could be beneficial.

Each of the Workshop sessions outlined below will be open to all, though attendance by all to every session is not expected. Each session will be convened and attended by the SIT Chair, though for some sessions the lead has been delegated. It is expected that the majority of participants will attend the Opening Session, and the Final Review. CEOS Principals considering attendance may gain maximum value from attending these higher-level cross-cutting sessions.

Because this year’s Workshop will be held virtually, the formal sessions will be focused on coordination and preparation for the CEOS Plenary. Groups are welcome and encouraged to organise their own side discussions and meetings in preparation for the Workshop to progress their core business.
