3 Travel from Tokyo airports to venue

There are two International airports at Tokyo, Haneda and Narita which are both well connected by public transport to the venue, e.g. Ueno and Kita-Senju station. Note that the railways and subways are operated by different systems. Subway line stations are assigned with letters (line name) and numbers (station number). The Kita-Senju subway station serves C18 and H21.

However, combined railway and subway round-trip tickets can be booked in advance from abroad in a package. (see also below at airport access webpages)
