Buenos Aires city, Argentina

Buenos Aires city (Ciudad Autónoma de Buenos Aires) is the capital of Argentina. Please do not confuse it with the province of Buenos Aires, which covers a much larger area of the country. In some places and services the city is listed by its acronym, CABA.

Buenos Aires city is globally known for Tango dance and music. Its gastronomy is also famous offering tasty menus of exclusive products from the Pampas, Andes and Patagonia regions. Many cultural activities and options are available, or you can take a walk to enjoy 200 years of stunning architecture.

Travel

Most international flights arrive at Ministro Pistarini International Airport, best known as Ezeiza (EZE), which is 32 km (20 miles) away from downtown Buenos Aires, a journey of about 50 minutes long.

For more information about the airport and flights, please visit the official website: <http://www.aa2000.com.ar/ezeiza>

There are also two domestic airports near Buenos Aires: Jorge Newbery Airport, best known as Aeroparque (AEP), and El Palomar (EPA).

To the city centre:

Once you get to the airport, you have several options to reach the city center : <http://www.aa2000.com.ar/ezeiza/Transporte?qa=EZE>

Public transport

The Palermo subway station is at 300m and connects in 15' to the town center. (Look for the “Subte D” signal and Cathedral-Cathedral directions).

For Public transport (bus/subte) you will need a “SUBE” travelcard.
